PRESS RELEASE

For Immediate Release

Anishinabek Police Service Expansion

Chippewas of Kettle & Stony Point First Nation announce the expanded services of APS to Stony Point.

The increased support in services will allow for more officers and vehicles within the nation to support members in the community with better response times.

The Kettle and Stony Point Anishinabek Police are members of the Anishinabek Police Service (APS) that provides policing services to sixteen First Nation communities across Ontario, stretching from Kettle and Stony Point First Nation in the south to Fort William First Nation in the north.
